IT IS NO FIT PLACE FOR A HOSPITAL SITE $

East Washington's Protest Against the Board of Trade Selection.

MEETING OF THE CITIZENS

They Will Take Joint Action with Those of the Northeast.

Some Pretty Sharp Strictures Upon Mr. Brainard H. Warner-Everything is Good Enough for the Poor, Says Mr. Frizzcell, But It Would Be Different With the Darlings of the Rich-Joint Meeting Soon.

There was a warm meeting of the executive committee of East Washington Citizens' Association last night. It was also cheerful and confident. President Tucker of the Northeast Association met with them. The others present were: President, J. W. Babson, of the East Washington; Secretary, A. T. Sperry; Gen. S. S. Yoder, Messrs, William J. Frizzell, M. I. Weller, and T. L. Weffords. They discussed the proposed location of the hospital for contagious diseases, and incidentaily refreshments offered by President Babson, at whose house they met.

It was determined to call a joint meeting of the East Washington and the Southeast Washington associations to consider the action of the Board of Trade committees in locating the hospital on Eastern branch flats. It was agreed that a week from to-night will be the best time for the meeting. All citizens interested will be invited, and especially the nembers of the Anneostia, Bennings, Brookiand, Langdon, Winthrop Heights associations and in inhers of the Board of Trade. It was decided that the executive committees of the two associations, five rom each, should meet next week to complete arrangements. President Tucker was requested to extend an in: Itation to his association to come for the occasion to the regular assombly room of the East Washington Association, Bannes Hall, at Fourth and East Capitol. A joint committee to prepare a formal statement to lay before the meeting was determined upon and President Babson, Dr. Yoder and Mr. Weller were chosen to be the members for the East Washington Association. Mr. Tucker will to day notify the numbers selected for Northeast Association.

The discussion accompanying the action of the committee took the high ground that the selection of a site for the hespital made by the board of trade committee was wholly bad for the reason that the proper sanitary conditions can not be secured. In such diseases, it was urged, great importance attaches to keep mg up the general health of the patients, but a hospital at the place named would subject them to the land, Langdon, Winthrop Heights associa-

INSIDIOUS ATTACKS OF MALARIA. An extract from the report of Peter

Haines, made November 20, 1891, was read. It ran: "There are reasons other than the purely commercial one which should be considered. Nearly one-half of the sewerage of the city is discharged into the stream. As the city is discharged into the stream. As the city grows the amount will increase. The effect of this will be to cause such pollution of the water that a most unsimilarly state of affairs will be brought about second or later. The sewerage will spread out on the flats, and as these fill up higher and higher, the odors will increase until a large part of the city bordering on it will be rendered un-healths.

An extract was also read from Dr. Hammett's recent report containing the passage:
"This rich muck, i.e., on the Eastern Branch flats, consisting of alluvial deposits, is largely overgrown with a quatic plants and tall reeds. The plants are largely water likes, with bulbons and succulent roots, in the full this vast spread of vegetable matter rots and less immersed in the mud and water, undergoing minama-breeding decomposition. Into this mass of patrelying vegetable matter the great Boundary sewer and other drains are discharged.

Upon a statement that Dr. Nevitt and others who were in charge of the smallpox patlents in this locality had suffered in health from maintle, Mr. Babson said: "One of the programment of the programment." from mainta, Mr. Babson said: "One of the most touching things about that visitation was the death of Willie Owens. Coming here from the south with his mother and two sis-ters, be was full of hope for a useful file. He was taken with smallpex and hurried away from his mother and sisters at night to that prior his mother and sisters it hight to that poisoned atmosphere where he died and was buried williout mother or sisters ever seeing him again. It was a shame, and he might be alive to-day had he been taken to a healthy place to be treated."

"Yes," said Mr. Weiler, "a prominent physician of the northwest told me to-day that he would never allow a nation of his tole taken.

would never allow a patient of his to be taken to the hospital if located as proposed. He said, too, that Mr. Warner would never think of having one of his children seat there. It will do well enough for the poor; little differ-ence whether they die or not, but it is no

FOR THE DARLINGS OF THE RICH. "I doubt if any three of the men who selected the site have ever set foot upon it in their lives. They just allowed Mr. Warner to dictate their action."

dictate their action."

Mr. William Friszell said: "We are not set upon having the hospital located at any particular point, but for myself I think the selection made by the Commissioners ought to be respected. They are our lawfully constituted authorities: they have corresponded with physicians at home and abroad as to what should influence the location of such a hospital, and have studied the matter carefully, have investigated it much more thoroughly than any one else has. I think this decision is more likely to be right than that of any one else. I understand they have been offered a tract of eighty acres at some distance from the city, but they prefer the site in Fleasant Plains because it is more central for the whole District."

A prominent physician who was not pres-

A prominent physician who was not present at the meeting called attention to the fact that to reach the hospital, as placed by the board of trade committee, patients must frequently be carried across the whole city, "and," he added, "I would sooner have a case of scarlet fever or diphther a within a block of me, with proper disinfection, than to have the patient carried past my door." It is said 1r. Bovee strongly opposes the location of the bospital on the eastern flats.

COMING TO TAYLOR'S RESCUE.

Ex-Consul Astwood Replies to Editor Chase's Charges Against the Recorder. H. C. C. Astwood has added fuel to the flame in the fight among the local colored politicians by giving out a statement in the shape of a reply to the charges made against order of Deeds Taylor by Editor W. Calvin Chase, In his statement Astwood says Chase has overplayed himself and the publication of the statement shows that he is not only a dangerous, but a disreputable man, only a dangerous, cut a disreputable man, and that he is continually getting up newspaper scandals for his own benefit. The statement then recites the incidents preceding the charges against Taylor published by Chase in the Bee, and it seems there was some trouble between Chase and Taylor regarding an appointment in the recorder's office, and smoothed the matter over and restored peace by promising Chase two appointments in the office.

by promising Chase two appointments in the office.

The editor seemed to be satisfied and every thing wost along all right until Astwood returned from New York after the elections. Then Chase demanded a statement of the agreement, saying that Taylor wanted to break away from from it.

"He said he wanted it for the sole purpose of forcing Taylor to carry out his contract," anys Astwood's statement. "I had no idea that Chase wanted it for binckmail. I think that under the circumstances Mr. Taylor was perfectly justified in stopping this uncalled for fight of Chase's upon himself. He was perfectly right in discharging the individuals when he learned that he was to be continually annoyed by the demands of an insatiable money grabber."
